VERY LITTLE TO DO.

So the Union Prohibitory League Didn't Dally at Harrisburg.

A PLATFORM SPEEDILY ERECTED.

But Not a Candidate Named to Stand on it During the Campaign.

NOT ONE NOMINEE IS INDORSED,

Members of the League Being Free to Vote for Whom They Choose,

The Union Prohibitory League Convention yesterday at Harrisburg curried a short horse in a hasty manner. It refused to indorse any candidate or to nominate any to stand on its platform, which is for prohi-

PRINCIAL TELEGRAN TO THE DISPATORA HARRISBURG, September 26,-The Union Prohibitory League Convention prosecuted its business to-day very expeditiously, considering the difficulties which appeared to environ most of the delegates. Nearly all who made speeches while the committees were preparing work for the convention freely admitted their inability to suggest any practical plan to make the league a factor in promoting the cause of temper-

The convention contained a considerable number of active third party Prohibitionists who would have been delighted if their candidate for State Treasurer had received a direct indorsement. Other delegates were just as anxious that no action should be taken looking like support of any of the three candidates in the field. Others again appeared utterly at sea as to what course should be pursued in the matter of making a choice from the several aspirants for State

A PLATFORM EASILY MADE. The Committee on Resolutions had a harmonious meeting, and the platform was adopted without a hitch. This the Chair-man, Horace Geiger, of Philadelphia, thought a good omen, but after it had been read W. H. Brosius, who a few years ago was a member of the House from Lancaster county, made an attack on the plank which equired the record of the several candidates for State Treasurer on the liquor question to be printed, in order that the members of the league might arrive at a proper decision as to whom they should support. Brasius thought this plank was an indirect delaration in favor of Mr. Johnston, the third party candidate for State Treasurer, and wanted it dropped from the platform, but the convention did not take kindly to his suggestion, and even voted down a proposition to consider the resolutions seriatim, the purpose of which was to have a separate vote on the obj ctionable plank.

PROHIBITION ABOVE ALL. A. C. Bankin and B. C. Christy, of Alle gheny, both made speeches in favor of sub-ordinating party affiliations, if necessary, to the success of prohibition, the latter stating that he had never scratched a Re-publican ticket except once, but that hereafter he would vote for men who represented the principles of the league, without regard to party. The platform was adopted with an immaterial alteration, without a dissenting voice. After stating that $75,000,000 are paid annually by the people of this State for intoxicating liquors, without any return of value, the platform says the constitutional amendment failed for a number of reasons, chief of which was tha: many temperance people believed the existing laws gave greater promise of relief-"a delusion dissipated ten days after the election by the astounding decision of the Supreme permanently fasten this bondage upon our great cities, if not upon the whole Common-

ONE THING DEMANDED.

The platform demands the earliest possible enactment of laws under which the voice of the people will be made effective in the 29 counties which voted for prohibition, and says that while the league does not aim to unite its members in any particular party, it recognizes the fact that political measures are indispensable to the end it

The platform proclaims in favor of the election of such candidates for public office, without respect to party, as will best represent the principles of the league, and all its members are advised to inquire diligently into the character, record and purposes of all candidates for office, and prove their principles by their votes. The final resolution, which caused several discussions in the convention, provides for an investigation into the records of the three candidates for State Treasurer.

Samuel Collins, of Pittsburg, Chairman of the Committee on Educational Work. made a long report, suggesting plans for the distribution of prohibition literature, including a lecture bureau.

MONEY THAT'S NEEDED. After Captain W. W. Wallace, Chairman of the Finance Committee, announced man of the Finance Committee, announced that $5,000 were wanted to defray expenses of the league the coming year, $1,000 were pledged in $100 subscriptions as follows: C. L. Houston, Chester; Wellington E. Loucks, Horace Geiger, W. W. Wallace, A. J. Kynett, Philadelphia; Rev. J. M. Fulton, Allegheny; Elisha Kent Kane, Mc-Rean; Mr. Welsh for Chester county; John F. Dravo, for Benver, and A. W. Jackson for Dauphin. While contributions were for Dauphin. While contributions were being registered many delegates left the hall, and President Kynett remarked that collections usually throw a coldness on the proceedings of a convention.

The number of delegates in the convention at no time was over 110. To-nighta number of addresses were made under the auspices of the league in the hall of the House. The following named officers will prose-oute the work of the league during the year: President, A. J. Kynett, Philadel-phia; Vice Presidents, Agib Ricketts, Lu-serne: A. C. Rankin, Allachezerne; A. C. Rankin, Allegheny; Secretary, Wellington E. Loucks, Philadelphia, and Treasurer, W. W. Wallace, Philadelphia.

AN INVESTIGATION NECESSARY.

The Charges of Crucky in the Army Will be Thoroughly Sifted. WASHINGTON, September 26 .- The War Department has been firm to its promise that the recent allegations as to mismanagement at Jefferson barracks, Mo., would be fully investigated. As stated by General Schofield the preliminary inspection was made. That inspection warranted the appointment of a court of inquiry, which has been named by Secretary Proctor. Lieutenant Colonel Henry A. Walton, Inspector General of the army, will conduct the examination, and Captain Fred H. Ebstein will act as secretary.

Adjutant General Kelton said that soldiers and civilians would be examined thoroughly, and if deemed necessary after the hearing, a board will be appointed to try those in authority. The Court of In-quiry will begin operations October 15.

GREENSBURG, September 26.—Regarding the alleged confession of Coffmau, one of the six men sent to the penitentiary five years ago for robbing old man Keck at Scottdale, Adam Keck, a brother of the old Scottdale, Adam Keck, a brother of the oldman, and who was in the house at the time and was severely beaten by the ruffians, states that there is no mistake as to the guilt of the six men, and although they left him lying upon the floor for dead, he recognized them all at the trial.

It was upon his evidence that a conviction was brought about. On the night of the robbery he called them by name, he says, and it was then they fell upon him and beat him.

Plane. Irvin failed to return home yesterday and his wife made inquiry among his fellow workmen as to his whereabouts. But nobody could give any information.

Toward evening a searching party was organized and last night the dead bodies of both men were found in an abandoned working, they having been suffocated by black damp. The supposition is that the Polander had strayed into the fatal spot, and that Irvin had gone there in search of him. Irvin was 45 years old and leaves a family.

A Pleasant Wedding at Brie-

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. ERIE, September 26.-The residence of Major Tyson, Commander of the Soldiers' and Sailors Home, was the scene of an interesting wedding to-day, in which his daughter. Miss Ella, and Mr. Joseph Smith, a prominent Pritiburg manufacturer, figured as the happy couple. The newly wedded couple took a trip East.

He Falled to Meet Prof. Gilkeson and the Pen Got Away With the Sword-A Very One-Sided Debate, Indeed.

AJAX AS A FLUNKER.

Sewickley was on tiptoe of expectation last night, it having been arranged that Prof. Charles Gilkeson, of Sewickley, and Statesman Ajax Jones, of the Pittsburg Mayor's office, would settle definitely and for all time the question as to whether the pen or the sword is the mightiest weapon in the hands of those trained in their use. The debate was arrayed to take place in Choral Hall, under the auspices of the Sewickley Gymnastic Association. Prof. Sewickley Gymnastic Association. Prof. Gilkeson was arranged in full evening dress, and though it was the correct thing in the matter of toilet, it impeded him sadly in his gestures, which, by the way, were very fine, having been perfected under the tutelage of Mr. Erskine. Prof. Gilkeson was loaded to the muzzle, and the treat promised to be impressed.

promised to be immense. But Ajax came not, and as the minutes sped the audience became restive. Ajax had essayed to maintain the reputation of the sword, and was known to have made his appearance at the gate at the Allegheny sta-The people had paid their money to see the show, and Prof. Gilkeson and his backers being honest men, were determined to reduce the disappointment to the minimum, So a colored combination composed of Messrs. Ward, Harrison and Henderson sang some songs, after which the general man-ager of the athletic association declared the lists open, giving notice to Ajax and other sons of Mars that they must either put up or shut up.

Prof. Gilkeson then shied his easter into the ring and shouting "Ajax" three times in stentorian tones, taunted the opposition with their attempt to scare him off by the exhibition of a carcass. He next proceeded to speak of Ajax as a man of straw, as a man of paper, and as Prof. Gilkeson's similes soared Ajax finally became a figment of the flimsiest kind of tissue paper. Not to allow the audience to be entirely disappointed, Prof. Gilkeson recounted the triumphs of the sea beginning with the the pen, beginning with the graven tablets of the law written by the finger of Omnipotence on Mt. Sinai, and winding up with a recital of the triumphs of Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth. But Prof. Gilkeson's gestures were the main part of the entertainment.

were the main part of the entertainment. They cannot be described.

The judges, Messrs. J. K. Fleming, J. T. Nevin and W. W. Scott, awarded the laurel wreath to Prof. Gilkeson, according honor-able mention to H. W. Whitesel, usher. The audience was so well satisfied with the entertainment that, although the man-ager offered to refund the entrance fees there were no applications for them.

Judge Over was so affected that Jamaica ginger was prescribed by Mr. W. W. Scott with a dash of "suthin" "stronger, but the judge insisted that catnip tea would relieve im, and refused stimulants
